

You Survived the October 30th

Walk Among the Shadows III

We hope you enjoyed your tour and learned something new about the people who reside in oldest historic landscape on the peninsula in Portland, Maine.

Alice Greely, owner of Greely's Tavern in 1775: Grace Cleaves
Ann Brackett, escaped from Indian captivity during King Philip's War: Meg Christie
Anna Dunn Deering Milk, joined 2 wealthy families by marrying father-in-law of 3 of her children: Marcia Pitcher
Jacob Adams, Captain of the shipwreck of the Schooner Charles: Gary Thayer
Lydia Carver, ghost bride of Portland. Erin Curren
Major Samuel Moody, Indian War veteran and a first settler of Portland: Colin O'Leary
Samuel Proctor, father killed during Salem witch trials: Andy Colvin

Special Thanks to: Portland Playback for acting as the dearly departed, Doug Campbell for designing the poster, the drama department of the University of Southern Maine for clothing our restless spirits, the specters of Spirits Alive, and everyone who promoted this event for us, especially: Michelle Souliere of Strange Maine, Joe Duley of Dining with the Duleys, Shannon Bryan of the Portland Press Herald, Heather O'Bryan and Sharon Rose of WCSH Channel 6, and the Spirits Alive development coordinator extraordinaire, Lisa Flaim.

Proceeds Spirits Alive earns from this event will help fund improvements and maintenance for the Eastern Cemetery including a master plan for its future, the continuation of our survey of every stone, and the restoration of the Congress Street fence and gates. Spirits Alive at the Eastern Cemetery welcomes volunteers of all ages and also offers Friendships in support of the cemetery.

Care to email us your thoughts about the tour? If you do it by November 15, 2010, next year we'll mail you a free ticket for Walk Among the Shadows IV. One ticket per person, please. Only those who took the tour this year are eligible. ***

www.spiritsalive.org | sa@spiritsalive.org
facebook.com/spiritsalive | twitter.com/easterncemetery
PO Box 18209, Portland, Maine 04112-8209

Spirits Alive is a 501c(3) non-profit organization dedicated to the protection and preservation of Portland's historic Eastern Cemetery through a range of activities including promotion and education.

You Survived the October 30th

Walk Among the Shadows III

We hope you enjoyed your tour and learned something new about the people who reside in oldest historic landscape on the peninsula in Portland, Maine.

Alice Greely, owner of Greely's Tavern in 1775: Grace Cleaves
Ann Brackett, escaped from Indian captivity during King Philip's War: Meg Christie
Anna Dunn Deering Milk, joined 2 wealthy families by marrying father-in-law of 3 of her children: Marcia Pitcher
Jacob Adams, Captain of the shipwreck of the Schooner Charles: Gary Thayer
Lydia Carver, ghost bride of Portland. Erin Curren
Major Samuel Moody, Indian War veteran and a first settler of Portland: Colin O'Leary
Samuel Proctor, father killed during Salem witch trials: Andy Colvin

Special Thanks to: Portland Playback for acting as the dearly departed, Doug Campbell for designing the poster, the drama department of the University of Southern Maine for clothing our restless spirits, the specters of Spirits Alive, and everyone who promoted this event for us, especially: Michelle Souliere of Strange Maine, Joe Duley of Dining with the Duleys, Shannon Bryan of the Portland Press Herald, Heather O'Bryan and Sharon Rose of WCSH Channel 6, and the Spirits Alive development coordinator extraordinaire, Lisa Flaim.

Proceeds Spirits Alive earns from this event will help fund improvements and maintenance for the Eastern Cemetery including a master plan for its future, the continuation of our survey of every stone, and the restoration of the Congress Street fence and gates. Spirits Alive at the Eastern Cemetery welcomes volunteers of all ages and also offers Friendships in support of the cemetery.

Care to email us your thoughts about the tour? If you do it by November 15, 2010, next year we'll mail you a free ticket for Walk Among the Shadows IV. One ticket per person, please. Only those who took the tour this year are eligible. ***

www.spiritsalive.org | sa@spiritsalive.org
facebook.com/spiritsalive | twitter.com/easterncemetery
PO Box 18209, Portland, Maine 04112-8209

Spirits Alive is a 501c(3) non-profit organization dedicated to the protection and preservation of Portland's historic Eastern Cemetery through a range of activities including promotion and education.